

What's On

Gallery Profiles

What's New

Photographer Profiles

Past Issues

See Past Articles by Topic

Links

Other Group Sites

photoshot

worldillustrated

HotShoe Newsletter

Enter email here...

Sign Up Now!

NEWS

VIEW COMMENTS

Copyright 2007 Matt Eich

Man riles up dogs while stoned in Carbondale, OH.

Clayton Ator riles up Shank and Money after getting stoned. Ator, an ex-con learned to "shoot ink" in prison and does prison style tattoos out of his living room in Carbondale, OH.

Magenta Foundation photo competition celebrates five years of success

The Magenta Foundation, a charitable arts publishing house, the first of its kind in Canada, has published Flash Forward 2009. This sleek leather bound volume presents 312 images across 288 pages, from emerging photographic artists from Canada, the UK and the US who have taken part in the competition. A select group of previous winners work is also included in this volume. Along with their images they reveal the impact that the program has had on their careers.